With Why She Uses Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies.

THE NAME of Mrs. J. E. Harwell, (nee Julia Emma Fleming) is a familiar one in the state of Georgia. She writes: "It is with pleasure that I express my gratitude for the wonderful benefits I have received from Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies, especially the Nerve and Liver Pills, New Heart Cure and Anti-Pain Pills. Actual experience has taught me their great worth. No family should be without them. They have fully restored me from a complication of disorders chiefly affecting the heart, nervous system and kidneys. When I travel I always take one of your Anti-Pain Pills and thus prevent before entering the case, and thus prevent swelling of the head and nausea, to which I have been subject for several years."

WILLIAM L. WILSON will probably be a greater success as a college president, than as a tariff reformer.

The legislature has no time to waste from this time on. The end of the session is approaching fast and many important measures are not yet enacted into laws.

Cuba still insists that nothing but complete independence will satisfy her. And the people of this country heartily sympathize with the brave patriots on the island.

GEREC has a population of a little more than 2,000,000, and an army, on a peace footing, of 25,000. But in war against Turkey it counts on raising 300,000 troops, if necessary.

A SPECIAL from Kentland states that George M. Ray the well advertised school supply man, has been doing some business in Newton county and as a result the books of a township trustee are in the hands of his bondsmen for examination.

DEMOCRAT papers that indulge in a little boasting over the surplus Cleveland will leave in the treasury have very little to say about the monthly deficit and the fact that more bonds have been sold by this administration than the little surplus left will offset.

The Evening News says it has been reliably informed that the city council expects to construct thirty blocks of brick streets before fall unless thwarted in the beginning. Our neighbor has been imposed upon and should therefore expose its informant who thinks he sees "ways that are dark and tricks that are vain."

The steel rail combine seems on the verge of collapse. The laws of trade have been at work as is always the case when profits become too great. This is a fair example of what is always likely to happen when any combination attempts to raise prices to an artificial level. The threatened collapse is a hard blow on the argument that protection amounts to guaranty to trusts.

The members of the state board of education are asking the legislature to increase their appropriation fifty per cent. They have certainly abandoned the hopes they had for the meeting educational bill which called for a fee of fifty cents from every applicant for teacher's license, which was to go into the hands of the board with no provision whatever that it should be paid over to the state.

Cascarets stimulate liver, kidneys and bowels. Never sicken, weaken or grip. Wright's Cherry Tea cures constipation. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

SUCCESSFUL surgery without either a knife or probe seems impossible, but that has been accomplished. A piece of steel deeply imbedded in the eye of a Philadelphia patient was located by means of the X ray and removed by applying a magnet in just the right spot.

PRESIDENT-ELECT McKINLEY needs rest. So says his physician. And he should have it. It is only a few days until he shall assume the great responsibility of governing the greatest nation on earth. To that task he should bring his mind and body in the most healthful condition possible.

ONE man out of every fifty in the country, or over 700,000 altogether, has gone to Canton since the beginning of the last presidential campaign. McKinley is distinctly the people's man. But it is small wonder that he is sick. Any ordinary man would have collapsed long ago under the mere physical strain of meeting so many thousands of strangers.

The superiority of American methods is again illustrated by a ghastly occurrence in London. In one of the compartment railway cars a young woman is murdered, her body stowed away under the seat and the murderer escapes without leaving any clue to his identity. With passenger coaches such as we use such a thing would be impossible. But the English cling to the compartment coach that they may secure greater privacy and then are shocked when such crimes occur.

SENATOR LA FOLLETTE was right last night when he said: "The people would be much disappointed if this session should adjourn without passing a building and loan bill." The people are weary of being victimized by a few of the associations which are not managed in the interest of the stockholders. As we have said many times before the building association has proved itself a great boon to poor but frugal people and the great majority of the associations are conducted by honest men on business principles. It is the abuses of the building association principles which has created the demand for reform and the people will not be satisfied unless such legislation is enacted as will prevent these abuses from being practiced in the future.

PLEASANT VALLEY. Health is generally good at present in this vicinity. The school at this place will close in about four weeks from this Tuesday.

On the account of so much rain White Creek is again growing rapidly. Dillie Weddell, of Medora, is here visiting her sister, Mrs. Charlie Anderson.

Garry Lucas and wife visited the latter's parents at Cortland a few days last week.

John Pierrer and daughter Hattie made a business trip to Freetown last Saturday.

Pete Sensback, of Seymour, was a business caller through our vicinity last week.

Herchel Reynolds, of Vallonia, was visiting his parents at this place over Sunday.

Carl Fritz, of near Brownstown, hauled some fine corn from the Rodman farm last week.

Charley Anderson was the guest of his father-in-law, Ames Weddell, of Medora last Sunday.

Frank Dowden and family visited friends and relatives at West Brownstown Saturday and Sunday.

Jacob Bransman, the West Brownstown stock dealer, drove some fine cattle through our midst last Friday.

Lagrippe has been raging in this vicinity and for a while seemed to be a general complaint, but all are better.

We are glad to hear of the protracted meeting at Hometown progressing so nicely. We hope and trust it will help all who attend.

After a pleasant visit with relatives and friends in Kentucky, Prof. Edward Bultman has again returned to his home at this place.

MACHINE LUNCHEES.

THE GERMAN AUTOMATIC DISPENSER OF QUICK REPEATS.

The Slot Principle Applied to Restaurants. No Waiters to Fee or to Swear At—A Good Lunch Basket Scheme Used on German Railways.

Germany is showing the rest of the world how "quick lunches" may be served without employing waiters and how a hungry person may have just what he wants to eat and drink at a fixed price without paying an extra tip and without feeling himself called upon, no matter how particular he may be, to find fault with the service unless he is satisfied to make his complaint to a mechanical contrivance, which differs from some waiters in so far that it makes no pretense of caring a rap or the turn of a handle how uncomfortable or how badly served the hungry one may be. The contrivance, which has been perfected by the Quisiana company of Berlin is so perfectly arranged that even those people who object to the manner of washing the cups and plates in the ordinary quick lunch places are deprived of their cause for complaint because every customer may supervise the cleaning of the cup which he will use, and if he is so inclined may attend to the duty himself.

The quick lunch stands are provided with automatic spraying nozzles for cleaning glass and china and insure perfect cleanliness. No rubber tubing is used to conduct liquids, silver tubes being employed for the purpose. The service is run by clockwork.

In place of the ordinary counter there are sets of ornamental cabinets ranged along one side of the room, which have a shelf projecting at a convenient height, upon which glasses and cups are placed. Above these there are faucets and a number of slots to receive the coin. When the customer has decided what sort of a drink he wants—coffee, tea, chocolate or beef tea—he drops the coin in the slot and receives the regulated quantity. The cold drinks—lemonade, soda water and all sorts of "soft drinks"—are kept in glass vessels and the hot drinks in nickel tanks surrounded by a hot water bath, which is heated by gas.

But the establishment is not limited to drinks and the hungry man may also be served. Sandwiches and cakes are kept in a glass stand, circular in shape, which is covered with a glass bell. Each bell contains about a dozen sandwiches, and the purchaser indicates his choice by dropping his coin into the slot opposite the kind he wants, and the stand revolves sufficiently to bring his sandwich to an opening where he may take it out. Stands similarly arranged provide hot beef, chicken and other meats.

The quick lunch is nothing new in Germany, though, as any person will know who has made a railroad trip between Berlin and Copenhagen by way of Warnemunde. A man who made the trip several years ago said:

"We were coming back from Denmark and stopped at a little place on the German frontier at about noon. Everybody was hungry, and the American contingent was disappointed when the conductor shouted, 'Funf minuten aufenthalte.' We knew that five minutes would not give us time for a meal, and we lost no time in leaving the coach as soon as it was unlocked. Everybody rushed pell-mell into the restaurant, where a lot of wire things that looked like old fashioned rattraps were piled up. Everybody grabbed a trap, paid about 25 cents for it and rushed back to the train.

"What looked like a trap was really an ingeniously contrived lunch basket having three compartments. In one was an ample portion of chicken; the next contained sandwiches, and the third a dainty piece of pastry and a small bottle of wine, over which a little drinking glass was fastened. Little salt and pepper shakers and a knife and fork were fastened to the sides, and the whole was covered with a Japanese paper napkin. The fact that we were all hungry and that the whole arrangement was unexpected may have had something to do with our enjoyment of the luncheon, but it was agreed that it was the most perfect of the 'quick' kind we had ever seen. The bottom of the wire lunch basket was covered with a piece of glass, and a paper beneath it bore the request in German, French and English to leave the empty basket with the train-hand."

Managers of quick lunch places say that the automatic restaurant would not be patronized sufficiently to make it pay in New York.

"The main object of the automatic arrangement," said one, "is to do away with waiters and save the outlay on that account. We have accomplished that end by making every man his own waiter, and I believe that breakage in machines, falling off in trade and counterfeit coins would make a change from our present system to the automatic an expensive experiment. As to the quick lunches for travelers on railway trains, much can be done, and no one knows that better than the traveler who is compelled to make a meal of what he can buy from the dealer in pies, apples and sandwiches who hawks his wares through the cars. The buffet and the dining cars have reduced his field of operation, but he is still in business, selling the same old sandwiches to the people who cannot afford to ride in drawing room cars, and to them the quick lunch on the plan of those which they have in some parts of Europe would be a blessing."—New York Tribune.

THE ORIGINAL ARYAN.

I am the ancient Aryan, And you have done me wrong. I did not come from Hindustan—I've been here all along.

I never traveled from the east In huge successive waves. You'll find your ancestors deceased Inside your own old caves.

There my remains may now be sought, Mixed up with mastodons, Which very long with flints I fought Before I fought with bronze.

In simple skins I wrapped me round Ere mats I learned to make. I dug my dwellings in the ground Or reared them on a lake.

I had no pen, I'm sure of this, Although you say I penned All manner of theories, Be Sanskrit and in Zend.

My nature you've misunderstood. When did I pour here, I worshiped chunks of stone or wood; My rites were rather queer.

The more my little ways you scan The less you'll care to praise And bless the dear old Aryan Of neolithic days.

They've mixed me up till, I declare, I hardly can report Whether I first was tall and fair, Or I was dark and short.

But on two things I take my stand—Through all their noise and strife I didn't come from Asia, and I had no higher life. —Prach.

NOT A DIRECTORY.

Why the Hardworking Letter Carrier Loses His Temper Occasionally.

I stopped a letter carrier in Thirty-sixth street the other morning and inquired the number of the house on the other side of the street at which a personal friend of mine lived, giving the name and occupation of the gentleman about whom the inquiry was made. I knew he lived across the way, in one of a certain block, but had forgotten the particular number, and I knew the carrier would know by the mail delivered.

"Don't you know, sir," said the carrier, who knew me, by the way, "that you ask for that which it is contrary to the rules of the postoffice department to give?"

"No, I don't," I blushing admitted.

"Well, it's true," he said. "The law recognizes the right of a citizen to a private residence, undisturbed, as long as he has committed no offense that requires such privacy to be invaded. Now if I should give your number and street to anybody who might happen to want them, the thing might cause you some annoyance."

"Why, anybody could find that out through the directory."

"They might, and they might not. Anyhow the postoffice is not a directory."

"And didn't you know," he added as a parting shot as he went away, "that you violate the law by stopping a postman in this way while he is delivering his mail?"

No, I didn't, and for that reason those paragraphs.—New York Herald.

SENATE AND HOUSE

Concise Report of the Doings of the General Assembly.

BERRY'S MINING BILL PASSES.

Senate Was Occupied With Street-Car Legislation—Act to Protect Hotels and Boarding Houses Receives Favorable Consideration—Nicholson Tries to Get His Quartermaster Bill Out of Committee.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 16.—The chief event of Monday in the legislature was the red-hot fight over the street car bill, local to Indianapolis. It was on second reading and the big street car lobby made an effort to kill it with amendment. The senate spent nearly the whole day on the subject.

The house passed the Sutton bill for the destruction of weeds without opposition. It requires the owner of property to cut the weeds along the road in front of his property during the summer months under the direction of the supervisor and allows him $1.25 per day for such labor.

The bill for the protection of hotels, boardinghouses, etc., came up and was passed by a vote of 59 to 17. It makes failure to pay board bills prima facie evidence of fraud. The pharmacy bill introduced by Mr. Littleton came up and failed for want of a constitutional majority. The vote was 49 ayes and 33 noes. This failure to get 51 votes does not kill the bill, but it can be placed upon its passage at any time.

Mr. Berry's bill requiring that a complete survey of maps of mines be filed annually with the state mine inspector was passed. The object of the measure is to prevent the operator of a mine from entering beneath the surface upon land he does not own or lease.

The general medical bill was loaded up with amendments and recommitment, and the bill to increase the force in the attorney general's office was defeated by a heavy vote. Mr. Nicholson introduced a motion compelling the temperance committee to report on his anti-quartermaster bill by Feb. 17, demanding a rollcall and the house immediately adjourned.

Nicholson's Quartermaster Bill.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 16.—Mr. Nicholson adjourned the house in confusion Monday when he introduced a motion compelling the temperance committee to report on his anti-quartermaster bill by Feb. 17. The motion was written and seconded by Babcock, Canada, East, Downey and Hedgecock. Mr. Kratz, chairman of the committee, simply smiled and turned red. Willoughby opposed the motion while Butler and Reynolds spoke for it. Swopes said he thought the bill had been burned up and East said he thought it ought to be taken out for an airing anyhow. When Nicholson demanded a rollcall the house adjourned at once.

Don't Believe in Increasing Expenses.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 16.—After a long discussion Monday the house, by a vote of 61 to 28, defeated the bill to give the attorney general's office the following increases: $500 per year for traveling expenses, $1,200 per year for a second deputy in the office, $2,400 per year and expenses for another traveling deputy, and $600 per year for another stenographer, a total increase of $4,600.

Joaquin Miller and James W. Riley.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 16.—The proceedings of the house were interrupted Monday afternoon by a very pleasant little episode when Joaquin Miller and James Whitcomb Riley were introduced by the speaker and made very brief talks to the members. They were roundly applauded.

Colored School Bill.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 16.—In the house Monday the educational committee reported under instructions of the house the substitute for the Jones colored school bill. Nearly the whole house arose in support of the report. It was adopted and the bill now stands upon second reading.

Causes Slight Damages to a B. & O. S. W. Passenger Coach.
While making the run from River Vale to Bedford Saturday forenoon, the B. & O. Branch train ran into the top of a tree which had blown down during the night says the Bedford Mail. The engineer did not see the obstruction in time to stop. A limb raked one side of the train its entire length, knocking out seven windows on one side of the coach. The passengers were, luckily, sitting on the car, but several of them were covered with broken glass, and William Hart, of Mitchell, a petit juryman this term of court, had a small splinter of glass driven into the side of his nose which did no serious, however.

The Fact That Doctors
Frequently advise change of air and climate to those suffering from catarrh is proof that catarrh is a local and climatic disease. Therefore, unless you can leave home and business, you should use Ely's Cream Balm. Applied directly to the seat of the disease, it effects instant relief and a satisfactory cure after short continuance. No mercury nor injurious drug is contained in the Balm.

A few months ago, Mr. Byron Every, of Woodstock, Mich., was badly afflicted with rheumatism. His right leg was swollen the full length, causing him great suffering. He was advised to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. The first bottle of it helped him considerably and the second bottle effected a cure. The 25 and 50 cent sizes are for sale by C. W. Milhous.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain no Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Epworth League Convention.
There is an earnest effort being made to secure the national convention of the Epworth League for Indianapolis in 1898. The Indianapolis people will make an attempt to raise the $20,000 necessary for the convention expenses. The question of finance is probably the greatest barrier to securing the meeting.

A GOOD LETTER
From the Clerk of the Circuit Court.

FERNANDINA, Fla., Feb. 28, 1896
Mr. J. GEORGE SHERER, Druggist, City.
Dear George.—Please send for a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I would not feel easy if I knew there was none of this valuable Remedy in the house. I have given it a fair test and consider it one of the very best remedies for croup that I have ever found. One dose has always been sufficient although I use it freely. Any cold my children contract yields very readily to this medicine. I can conscientiously recommend it for croup and colds in children.
Yours Respectfully, Geo. E. WOLFE.
Sold by C. W. Milhous, Druggist.

POLITICAL BREVITIES.
President-elect McKinley is suffering from a severe cold and lack of rest.
President McKinley may not announce the remaining members of his cabinet until near March 4.
Governor Mount has decided that he will be too busy with the examination of legislative bills which will be on his desk to attend the inauguration of President McKinley.
W. P. St. John, ex-president of the Merchants National Bank, of New York, is dead. He was elected treasurer of the national democratic free silver organization last year.

Mr. Ward L. Smith, of Fredericks-town, Mo., was troubled with chronic diarrhoea for over thirty years. He has become fully satisfied that if it was only a question of a short time until he would have to give up. He had been treated by some of the best physicians in Europe and America but got no permanent relief. One day he picked up a newspaper and chanced to read an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He got a bottle of it, the first dose helped him and its continued use cured him. For sale by C. W. Milhous, Druggist.

COURT NOTES
Our local attorneys and many others went to-day to the county seat to attend circuit court which reopened this forenoon.
Owen Roeger and other members of the jury went this morning to enter on their duty.

One Every Five Minutes.
The fact has just been made known by the township trustee of Shelbyville that in a single day one hundred and twenty five families applied to him for assistance, many of them being residents of the country. Investigation has brought to light the somewhat startling fact that these applicants are worthy of assistance. Counting ten hours per day this makes an average of one application every five minutes.

Great things are promised in the forthcoming production of "The Heart of Chicago." An accurate reproduction of a part of great Chicago fire is given. All the prominent buildings are shown before, during and after the fire. Panting fire engines, excited throngs, rushing cabs, leaping flames, shouting firemen, and flying debris add to the realism of the scene. Another bit of advanced realism is said to be found in the new railroad scene in which a long stretch of level country is shown. The drawbridge has been opened and the bridge tender killed, suddenly the headlight of the oncoming engine is seen in the distance. It gradually grows larger, the faint whistling of the engine becomes clearer, then the bell is heard and finally the panting of the mighty iron horse. Just in the nick of time the bridge is swung into place and a full sized and complete engine rushes head on down to the footlights. Of course the first part of the scene is a cleverly worked illusion but it is impossible for the audience to detect just where the illusion ends and the engine which finally confronts them, begins.

Russell Sage is one of the level headed men who foresee that prosperity will not come sharp at 12 o'clock noon on March 4. Those who expect anything of the sort are unreasonably optimistic, and are bound to be disappointed. Four years of business stagnation can not be ended instantaneously. The accession of the republicans to power will bring business improvement. In lead, business improvement has been under way ever since the country learned on November 4 that the republicans had won. The change is slow, of course. It will be a little more rapid after the revenue and tariff bill gets on to the statute book and the industries become adjusted to the new conditions. But the full measure of prosperity will probably not be experienced until the republicans are in power ten or twelve months.—Globe Democrat.

Why She Uses Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies.

THE NAME of Mrs. J. E. Harwell, (nee Julia Emma Fleming) is a familiar one in the state of Georgia. She writes: "It is with pleasure that I express my gratitude for the wonderful benefits I have received from Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies, especially the Nerve and Blood Purifier, New Heart Cure and Anti-Pain Pills. Actual experience has taught me their great worth. No family should be without them. They have fully restored me from a complication of disorders chiefly affecting the heart, nervous system and kidneys. When I traveled I always take one of your Anti-Pain Pills before entering the car and thus prevent suffering of the head and nausea, to which I have been subject for several years."

Dr. Miles' Remedies are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee, first bottle does not return money. Book on Heart and Nerve sent free to all applicants. DR. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

WILLIAM L. Wilson will probably be a greater success as a college president, than as a tariff reformer.

The legislature has no time to waste from this time on. The end of the session is approaching fast and many important measures are not yet enacted into laws.

Cuba still insists that nothing but complete independence will satisfy her. And the people of this country heartily sympathize with the brave patriots on the island.

GREECE has a population of a little more than 2,000,000, and an army, on a peace footing, of 25,000. But in war against Turkey it counts on raising 300,000 troops, if necessary.

A SPECIAL from Kentland states that George M. Ray the well advertised school supply man, has been doing some business in Newton county and as a result the books of a township trustee are in the hands of his bondsmen for examination.

DE MOCRAT papers that indulge in a little bombing over the surplus Cleveland will leave in the treasury have very little to say about the monthly deficit and the fact that more bonds have been sold by this administration than the little surplus left will offset.

THE Evening News says it has been reliably informed that the city council expects to construct thirty blocks of brick streets before fall unless thwarted in the beginning. Our neighbor has been imposed upon and should therefore expose its informant who thinks he sees "ways that are dark and tricks that are vain."

THE steel rail combine seems on the verge of collapse. The laws of trade have been at work as is always the case when profits become too great. This is a fair example of what is always likely to happen when any combination attempts to raise prices to an artificial level. The threatened collapse is a hard blow on the argument that protection amounts to guaranty to trusts.

THE members of the state board of education are asking the legislature to increase their appropriation fifty per cent. They have certainly abandoned the hopes they had for the Geeting educational bill which called for a fee of fifty cents from every applicant for teacher's license, which was to go into the hands of the board with no provision whatever that it should be paid over to the state.

Cascarae stimulate liver, kidneys, and bowels. Never sicken, weaken or gripe! Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure constipation. Write for free book. Sold by all druggists. Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies.

Successful surgery without either a knife or probe seems impossible, but that has been accomplished. A piece of steel deeply imbedded in the eye of a Philadelphia patient was located by means of the X ray and removed by applying a magnet in just the right spot.

PRESIDENT-ELECT McKINLEY needs rest. So says his physician. And he should have it. It is only a few days until he shall assume the great responsibility of governing the greatest nation on earth. To that task he should bring his mind and body in the most healthful condition possible.

ONE man out of every fifty in the country, or over 700,000 altogether, has gone to Canton since the beginning of the last presidential campaign. McKinley is distinctly the people's man. But it is small wonder that he is sick. Any ordinary man would have collapsed long ago under the mere physical strain of meeting so many thousands of strangers.

THE superiority of American methods is again illustrated by a ghastly occurrence in London. In one of the compartment railway cars a young woman is murdered, her body stowed away under the seat and the murderer escapes without leaving any clue to his identity. With passenger coaches such as we use such a thing would be impossible. But the English cling to the compartment coach that they may secure greater privacy and then are shocked when such crimes occur.

SENATOR LA FOLLETTE was right last night when he said: "The people would be much disappointed if this session should adjourn without passing a building and loan bill." The people are weary of being victimized by a few of the associations which are not managed in the interest of the stockholders. As we have said many times before the building association has proved itself a great boon to poor but frugal people and the great majority of the associations are conducted by honest men on business principles. It is the abuses of the building association principles which has created the demand for reform and the people will not be satisfied unless such legislation is enacted as will prevent these abuses from being practiced in the future.

PLEASANT VALLEY.

Health is generally good at present in this vicinity.

The school at this place will close in about four weeks from this Tuesday.

On the account of so much rain White Creek is again growing rapidly.

Dillie Weddell, of Medora, is here visiting her sister, Mrs. Charlie Anderson.

Garry Lucas and wife visited the latter's parents at Cortland a few days last week.

John Pierr and daughter Hattie made a business trip to Freetown last Saturday.

Pete Sensback, of Seymour, was a business caller through our vicinity last week.

Herchel Reynolds, of Vallonia, was visiting his parents at this place over Sunday.

Carl Fritz, of near Brownstown, hauled some fine corn from the Rodman farm last week.

Charley Anderson was the guest of his father-in-law, Ames Weddell, of Medora last Sunday.

Frank Dowden and family visited friends and relatives at West Brownstown Saturday and Sunday.

Jacob Branaman, the West Brownstown stock dealer, drove some fine cattle through our midst last Friday.

Lagrippe has been raging in this vicinity and for a while seemed to be a general complaint, but all are better.

We are glad to hear of the projected meeting at Honeytown progressing so nicely. We hope and trust it will help all who attend.

After a pleasant visit with relatives and friends in Kentucky, Prof. Edward Bultman has again returned to his home at this place.

MACHINE LUNCHEES.

THE GERMAN AUTOMATIC DISPENSER OF QUICK REPARTS.

The Slot Principle Applied to Restaurants. No Waiters to Fee or to Swear At—A Good Lunch Basket Scheme Used on German Railways.

Germany is showing the rest of the world how "quick lunches" may be served without employing waiters and how a hungry person may have just what he wants to eat and drink at a fixed price without paying an extra tip and without feeling himself called upon, no matter how particular he may be, to find fault with the service unless he is satisfied to make his complaint to a mechanical contrivance, which differs from some waiters in so far that it makes no pretense of caring a rap or the turn of a handle how uncomfortable or how badly served the hungry one may be. The contrivance, which has been perfected by the Quisiana company of Berlin is so perfectly arranged that even those people who object to the manner of washing the cups and plates in the ordinary quick lunch places are deprived of their cause for complaint because every customer may supervise the cleaning of the cup which he will use, and if he is so inclined may attend to the duty himself.

The quick lunch stands are provided with automatic spraying nozzles for cleaning glass and china and insure perfect cleanliness. No rubber tubing is used to conduct liquids, silver tubes being employed for the purpose. The service is run by clockwork.

In place of the ordinary counter there are sets of ornamental cabinets ranged along one side of the room, which have a shelf projecting at a convenient height, upon which glasses and cups are placed. Above these there are faucets and a number of slots to receive the coin. When the customer has decided what sort of a drink he wants—coffee, tea, chocolate or beef tea—he drops the coin in the slot and receives the regulated quantity. The cold drinks—lemonade, soda water and all sorts of "soft drinks"—are kept in glass vessels and the hot drinks in nickel tanks surrounded by a hot water bath, which is heated by gas.

But the establishment is not limited to drinks, and the hungry man may also be served. Sandwiches and cakes are kept in a glass stand, circular in shape, which is covered with a glass bell. Each bell contains about a dozen sandwiches, and the purchaser indicates his choice by dropping his coin into the slot opposite the kind he wants, and the stand revolves sufficiently to bring his sandwich to an opening where he may take it out. Stands similarly arranged provide hot beef, chicken and other meats.

The quick lunch is nothing new in Germany, though, as any person will know who has made a railroad trip between Berlin and Copenhagen by way of Warnemunde. A man who made the trip several years ago said:

"We were coming back from Denmark and stopped at a little place on the German frontier at about noon. Everybody was hungry, and the American contingent was disappointed when the conductor shouted, 'Funf minuten aufenthalt.' We knew that five minutes would not give us time for a meal, and we lost no time in leaving the coach as soon as it was unlocked. Everybody rushed pell-mell into the restaurant, where a lot of wire things that looked like old fashioned rattaps were piled up. Everybody grabbed a trap, paid about 25 cents for it and rushed back to the train."

"What looked like a trap was really an ingeniously contrived lunch basket having three compartments. In one was an ample portion of chicken; the next contained sandwiches, and the third a dainty piece of pastry and a small bottle of wine, over which a little drinking glass was fastened. Little salt and pepper shakers and a knife and fork were fastened to the sides, and the whole was covered with a Japanese paper napkin. The fact that we were all hungry and that the whole arrangement was unexpected may have had something to do with our enjoyment of the luncheon, but it was agreed that it was the most perfect of the 'quick' kind we had ever seen. The bottom of the wire lunch basket was covered with a piece of glass, and a paper beneath it bore the request in German, French and English to leave the empty basket with the train-hand."

Managers of quick lunch places say that the automatic restaurant would not be patronized sufficiently to make it pay in New York.

"The main object of the automatic arrangement," said one, "is to do away with waiters and save the outlay on that account. We have accomplished that end by making every man his own waiter, and I believe that breakage in machines, falling off in trade and counterfeit coins would make a change from our present system to the automatic an expensive experiment. As to the quick lunches for travelers on railway trains, much can be done, and no one knows that better than the traveler who is compelled to make a meal of what he can buy from the dealer in pies, apples and sandwiches who hawks his wares through the cars. The buffet and the dining cars have reduced his field of operation, but he is still in business, selling the same old sandwiches to the people who cannot afford to ride in drawing room cars, and to them the quick lunch on the plan of those which they have in some parts of Europe would be a blessing."—New York Tribune.

THE ORIGINAL ARYAN.

I am the ancient Aryan, And you have done me wrong. I did not come from Hindustan—I've been here all along.

I never traveled from the east In huge successive waves. You'll find your ancestors' bones Inside your own old caves.

There my remains may now be sought, Mixed up with mastodons, Which very long with flints I fought Before I fought with bronze.

In simple skins I wrapped me round Ere mats I learned to make. I dug my dwellings in the ground Or reared them on a lake.

I had no pen, I'm sure of this, Although you say I penned All manner of theologies In Sanskrit and in Zend.

My nature you've misunderstood. When first I sojourned here, I worshiped chunks of stone or wood; My rites were rather queer.

The more my little ways you scan The less you'll care to praise And bless the dear old Aryan Of neolithic days.

They've mixed me up till, I declare, I hardly can report Whether I first was tall and fair, Or I was dark and short.

But on two things I take my stand Through all their noise and strife—I didn't come from Asia, and I had no higher life.

NOT A DIRECTORY.

Why the Hardworking Letter Carrier Loses His Temper Occasionally.

I stopped a letter carrier in Thirty-sixth street the other morning and inquired the number of the house on the other side of the street at which a personal friend of mine lived, giving the name and occupation of the gentleman about whom the inquiry was made. I knew he lived across the way, in one of a certain block, but had forgotten the particular number, and I knew the carrier would know by the mail delivered.

"Don't you know, sir," said the carrier, who knew me, by the way, "that you ask for that which is contrary to the rules of the postoffice department to give?"

"No, I don't," I blushing admitted.

"Well, it's true," he said. "The law recognizes the right of a citizen to a private residence, undisturbed, as long as he has committed no offense that requires such privacy to be invaded. Now if I should give your number and street to anybody who might happen to want them, the thing might cause you some annoyance."

"Why, anybody could find that out through the directory."

"They might, and they might not. Anyhow the postoffice is not a directory."

"And didn't you know," he added as a parting shot as he went away, "that you violate the law by stopping a postman in this way while he is delivering his mail?"

No, I didn't, and for that reason these paragraphs.—New York Herald.

SENATE AND HOUSE

Concise Report of the Doings of the General Assembly.

BERRY'S MINING BILL PASSES.

SENATE WAS OCCUPIED WITH STREET-CAR Legislation—Act to Protect Hotels and Boarding Houses Receives Favorable Consideration—Nicholson Tries to Get His Quarters Bill Out of Committee.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 16.—The chief event of Monday in the legislature was the red-hot fight over the street car bill, local to Indianapolis. It was on second reading and the big street car lobby made an effort to kill it with amendment. The senate spent nearly the whole day on the subject.

The house passed the Sutton bill for the destruction of weeds without opposition. It requires the owner of property to cut the weeds along the road in front of his property during the summer months under the direction of the supervisor and allows him $1.25 per day for such labor.

The bill for the protection of hotels, boardinghouses, etc., came up and was passed by a vote of 59 to 17. It makes failure to pay board bills prima facie evidence of fraud. The pharmacy bill introduced by Mr. Littleton came up and failed for want of a constitutional majority. The vote was 49 yeas and 38 nays. This failure to get 51 votes does not kill the bill, but it can be placed upon its passage at any time.

Mr. Berry's bill requiring that a complete system of maps of mines be filed annually with the state mine inspector was passed. The object of the measure is to prevent the operator of a mine from entering beneath the surface upon land he does not own or lease. The general medical bill was loaded up with amendments and recommitted, and the bill to increase the force in the attorney general's office was defeated by a heavy vote. Mr. Nicholson introduced a motion compelling the temperance committee to report on his anti-liquor bill by Feb. 17, demanding a rollcall and the house immediately adjourned.

Nicholson's Quarters Bill. INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 16.—Mr. Nicholson adjourned the house in confusion Monday when he introduced a motion compelling the temperance committee to report on his anti-liquor bill by Feb. 17. The motion was written and seconded by Babcock, Canada, East, Downey and Hedgecock. Mr. Kratz, chairman of the committee, simply smiled and turned red. Mr. Willoughby opposed the motion while Butler and Reynolds spoke for it. Swope said he thought the bill had been burned up and East said he thought it ought to be taken out for an airing anyhow. When Nicholson demanded a rollcall the house adjourned at once.

Don't Believe in Increasing Expenses. INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 16.—After a long discussion Monday the house, by a vote of 61 to 28, defeated the bill to give the attorney general's office the following increases: $600 per year for traveling expenses, $1,200 per year for a second deputy in the office, $2,400 per year and expenses for another traveling stenographer, and $600 per year for another stenographer, a total increase of $4,800.

Joaquin Miller and James W. Riley. INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 16.—The proceedings of the house were interrupted Monday afternoon by a very pleasant little episode when Joaquin Miller and James Whitcomb Riley were introduced by the speaker and made very brief talks to the members. They were roundly applauded.

Colored School Bill. INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 16.—In the house Monday the educational committee reported under instructions of the house the substitute for the Jones colored school bill. Nearly the whole house arose in support of the report. It was adopted and the bill now stands upon second reading.

As a remedy for all forms of Headache Electric Bitters has proved to be the very best. It effects a permanent cure and the most dreaded habitual sick headaches yield to its influence.
We urge all who are afflicted to procure a bottle, and give this remedy a fair trial. In cases of habitual constipation Electric Bitters cures by giving the needed tone to the bowels, and few cases long resist the use of this medicine. Try it once. Fifty cents and other half of the law makers have invitations to partake of Mr. Fairbank's complaint.

A FALLEN TREE

Causes Slight Damages to a B. & O. S. W.
Passenger Coach.

While making the run from River Vale to Bedford Saturday forenoon, the B. & O. Branch train ran into the top of a tree which had blown down during the night says the Bedford Mail. The engineer did not see the obstruction in time to stop. A limb raked one side of the train its entire length, knocking out seven windows on one side of the coach.
The passengers were, luckily, sitting on the car, but several of them were covered with broken glass, and William Hart, of Mitchell, a petit juryman this term of court, had a small splinter of glass driven into the side of his nose which did no serious, however.

The Fact That Doctors

Frequently advise change of air and climate to those suffering from catarrh is proof that catarrh is a local and climatic disease. Therefore, unless you can leave home and business, you should use Ely's Cream Balm. Applied directly to the seat of the disease, it effects instant relief and a satisfactory cure after short continuance. No mercury nor injurious drug is contained in the Balm.

A few months ago, Mr. Byron Every,
of Woodstock, Mich., was badly afflicted with rheumatism. His right leg was swollen the full length, causing him great suffering. He was advised to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. The first bottle of it helped him considerably and the second bottle effected a cure. The 25 and 50 cent sizes are for sale by C.
W. Milhous.

juries are serious. He is thought to have been injured internally.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain no Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange
the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directing upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

There is an earnest effort being made to secure the national convention of The question of finance is probably the greatest barrier to securing the meet-

A GOOD LETTER

From the Clerk of the Circuit Court.

FERNSDINA, Fla., Feb. 23, 1896

Mr. J. GEORGE SUMNER, Druggist, City.

Dear George.—Please send for a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.
I would not feel easy if I knew there was none of this valuable Remedy in the house. I have given it a fair test and consider it one of the very best remedies for croup that I have ever found. One dose has always been sufficient although I use it freely. Any cold my children contract yields very readily to this medicine. I can conscientiously recommend it for croup and colds in children.

Yours Respectfully, GEO. E. WOLFE.

POLITICAL BREVITIES.

President-elect McKinley is suffering from a severe cold and lack of rest.

President McKinley may not announce the remaining members of his cabinet until near March 4.

Governor Mount has decided that he will be too busy with the examination of legislative bills which will be on his desk to attend the inauguration of President McKinley.

W. P. St. John, ex-president of the Merchantile National Bank, of New York, is dead. He was elected treasurer of the national democratic free silver organization last year.

Mr. Ward L. Smith, of Fredericktown, Mo., was troubled with chronic diarrhoea for over thirty year. He has become fully satisfied that if it was only a question of a short time until he would have to give up. He had been treated by some of the best physicians in Europe and America but got no permanent relief. One day he picked up a newspaper and chanced to read an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He got a bottle of it, the first dose helped him and its continued use cured him.
For sale by C. W. Milhous, Druggist.

COURT NOTES

Our local attorneys and many others went to-day to the county seat to attend circuit court which reopened this forenoon.

Owen Roeger and other members of the jury went this morning to enter on their duty.

One Every Five Minutes.

The fact has just been made known by the township trustee of Shelbyville that in a single day one hundred and twenty five families applied to him for assistance, many of them being residents of the country. Investigation has brought to light the somewhat startling fact that these applicants are worthy of assistance. Counting ten hours per day this makes an average of one application every five minutes.

Great things are promised in the forthcoming production of "The Heart of Chicago." An accurate reproduction of a part of great Chicago fire is given.
All the prominent buildings are shown before, during and after the fire.
Panting fire engines, excited throngs, rushing cars, leaping flames, shouting firemen, and flying debris add to the realism of the scene. Another bit of advanced realism is said to be found in the new railroad scene in which a long stretch of level country is shown. The drawbridge has been opened and the bridge tender killed, suddenly the headlight of the oncoming engine is seen in the distance. It gradually grows larger, the faint whistling of the engine becomes clearer, then the bell is heard and finally the panting of the mighty iron horse. Just in the nick of time the bridge is swung into place and a full sized and complete engine rushes head on down to the footlights. Of course the first part of the scene is a cleverly worked illusion but it is impossible for the audience to detect just where the illusion ends and the engine which finally confronts them, begins.

Russell Sage is one of the level headed men who foresee that prosperity will not come sharp at 12 o'clock noon on March 4. Those who expect anything of the sort are unreasonably optimistic, and are bound to be disappointed. Four years of business stagnation can not be ended instantaneously. The accession of the republicans to power will bring business improvement. In deed, business improvement has been under way ever since the country learned on November 4 that the republicans had won.
The change is slow, of course. It will be a little more rapid after the revenue and tariff bill gets on to the statute book and the industries become adjusted to the new conditions. But the full measure of prosperity will probably not be experienced until the republicans are in power ten or twelve months.—Globe Democrat.
